

Portraits of El Salvador

Fair Trade Notecards Handcrafted with Wildflowers

These natural pressed flower greeting cards of striking beauty represent a woman's hope for the future. Every card is a stunning portrait combining stylish artistic imagination with unique native flowers and plants. Handmade by the women of Arte Comasagua whose homes in El Salvador's highland cloud forest were destroyed by a devastating earthquake.

The women of Arte Comasagua represent Hope for Women®, a socially responsible company committed to providing sustainable employment to economically disadvantaged women worldwide. We are a proud member of the Fair Trade Federation. Every woman is paid a fair, livable wage under safe and healthy working conditions.

For Anna Cecilia, working at Arte Comasagua is a source of pride and self-esteem. "The work makes me feel important as a person," she says. "I can dream in flowers and create with my imagination."
